

3. It has been asserted that current child-rearing practices within the Caribbean encourage the development of aggressive behaviours in children and young people.
- a. How could your knowledge of social psychological theories and research on aggression inform the type of advice that could be given to parents to improve their parenting skills to address the aggressive behaviour of their children? (15 marks)
  - b. Using your knowledge of theory and research on aggression, examine how exposure to mass media and social media contribute to violence in our society. (15 marks)
- 4.
- a. With the help of an example, explain the relationship between stereotype, prejudice and discrimination. (10 marks)
  - b. Here in Antigua and Barbuda and the wider Caribbean, our lives are impacted by many isms: racism, sexism, 'partisan-ism', colourism. Identify and describe a social issue or problem in the Caribbean and discuss the extent to which prejudice and discrimination contribute to the problem or issue you identified. Suggest two ways the problem or issue can be addressed. (20 marks)
- 5.
- a. Define altruism and describe three characteristics of the altruistic personality. (12 marks)
  - b. Volunteerism is necessary to help to address or tackle social problems. Discuss some of the factors that may influence one's decision to volunteer in the National COVID Response. (18 marks)
- 6.
- a. Describe components of Sternberg's triangle model of love. (10 Marks)
  - b. You are invited to give a talk to a group of newly-weds and soon to be married young couples. Using the Sternberg theory of love, as well as the social exchange and social equity theories as your guide, discuss with them how they can strengthen and maintain their relationship. (20 marks)

END OF QUESTION PAPER